

ASIA

Global Antiquity. Uncovering a global ancient history beyond Greece and Rome

A dramatic shift in perspective is producing a much bigger, broader and more exciting view of 'the ancient world'

Korea

i - Exploring South Korea's Greek Mythology Museum

ii - Incheon exhibition traces 6,000 years of Greek history built on maritime power

Armenia

i - A vast ancient water management system has been uncovered near the ancient city of Argishtikhinili, shedding new light on the engineering capabilities of the Urartian Kingdom more than 2,700 years ago.

ii - Why Armenia Was the Most Important Buffer State Between Rome and Persia

Armenia's location between Rome and Persia, strategic mountains, and vital trade routes made it the key to imperial dominance in the East.

iii - Excavations at Shamiram reveal new insights into Armenia's ancient past iv - French-Armenian archaeological team discovers rare ancient mural at Erebuni

v - Archaeologists Uncover Monumental Bronze Age Tomb with Weapons and a Sacrificed Horse

Uzbekistan

i - Geophysical Survey Reveals Ancient Greek Military Camp

Kazakhstan

i - Archaeologists Discover Rare Ancient Glass Linked to Sarmatians

ii - Riding the Steppe in the Shadow of the Scythians

Travel to the wide grasslands where the Scythians once roamed, and you'll discover how their culture still shapes Eurasia today.

iii - Lavish 1,500-Year-Old Burial in Kazakhstan Reveals 'Golden Shoes' and Ancient Greek Motif

Azerbaijan

i - Large 2,200-Year-Old Atropatene Settlement Unearthed

ii - Archaeologists Discover a 3,200-Year-Old Ceremonial Kitchen in Azerbaijan, Unique in the Caucasus

iii - 3,600-year-old burial of a high-ranking warrior with rare mace head found in Azerbaijan <https://archaeologymag.com/2026/09/burial-of-warrior-with-mace-head-in-azerbaijan/>