

CONTENTIOUS ISSUES FOR CLASS DISCUSSION

Why Do So Many Museums Hold a Convicted Antiquity Dealer's Treasures?
After The Met returned a Roman bust connected to Phoenix Ancient Art, the question of what will happen to other works sold by the gallery to dozens of US institutions remains open.

Greece rejects Parthenon marbles loan request from Frankfurt due to British Museum involvement, reports say
The British Museum has agreed to loan two marble fragments to the Liebieghaus exhibition, which recreates the east pediment of the temple for the first time

Christopher Nolan Film Savaged by Ultimate 'Odyssey' Expert Emily Wilson

Emily Wilson

a - Emily Wilson Helped Inspire Nolan's 'Odyssey.' Her Verdict on the Film Is Brutal
- The Pappas Post

b - A Trojan Horse Is Supposed to Have Humans Inside It - The Atlantic

How civilisations fall, according to Gibbon Dr. Paul Cartledge
Two hundred and fifty years after the first volume of the Decline and Fall, Edward Gibbon's diagnosis of why Rome collapsed is a warning to our own age.

Jesus vs. Odysseus: The debate about 'The Odyssey' that's been overlooked

Loneliness Before the Digital Age: How Ancient Rome Invented the Architecture of Alienation

Troy, the Odyssey, and Fear of Overpopulation

Eurylochus, "All forms of death are hateful to wretched mortals, but to die of hunger, and so meet one's doom, is the most pitiful."

Worries that social media is making children lose touch with reality echo ancient Greeks' fears about theatre
